TROUT LAKE CAMPS MEN'S RETREAT

SEPTEMBER 18–20, 2015

Every guy comes to the Trout Men's Retreat for his own reason. With 400 men gathered on 325 acres of north-ern Minnesota wilderness for an entire weekend, we've got plenty of reasons.

There's something for everyone: spiritual renewal, fellowship with other guys and the steak fry. Plus all the camp activities you know and love: archery, mountain biking, zip-line, trap shoot, golf, canoe-ing, basketball and sitting around doing nothing. You can spend time with men from your church, make new friends or be alone with God. There's space for you to do what you need in this "meeting place with God."

It all begins at 5:00 pm on Friday evening. The first chapel session starts at 9:00 pm, so show up when you can. At registration you'll receive an information packet including a retreat schedule, list of rec-reation opportunities, seminar listings and church group locations.

HIGHLIGHTS

Saturday Night Steak Fry

Men like meat and men like fire. On Saturday night you can grill your own steak to perfection, whether you like it bloody or crispy. Come prepared for deli-cious home-cooked grub and plenty of it!

Seminars

We don't spend the whole weekend grunting. There are four chapel sessions with a speaker and wor-ship, plus small group seminars on Saturday to dig in to topics such as money, relationships, politics and more. We'll get in touch with our feelings, then go play human foosball.

Speakers Marlan Mincks

Marlan is the co-director of the Converge Assess-ment Center and a church planter in Waukon, Iowa. The church he planted 10 years ago now owns a movie theater and pizza restaurant, which makes for some creative outreach. In addition to leading a church, Marlan coaches church planters and helps stuck churches move forward. He is married to his wife, Terri, and has two sons.

Music Matt Berry

Matt has served as the worship pastor of Eagle Brook Church in Lino Lakes, Minn., for more than a decade. Prior to that, he toured the country for four years as a recording artist and member of the band, Clear. Matt and his wife, Heather, have four children and live in White Bear Lake, Minn.

WORK PROJECTS

Men's retreat participants have a long history of supporting facility development at Trout Lake Camps. And with the possibility of demo-lition or driving a bulldozer, why not? These generous guys have a vision for what God can do in campers' lives, and they provide the physical labor, trained skill and financial sup-port to tackle a specific building project. This work is essential, and we invite all men to par-ticipate in work projects throughout the year. To schedule a men's work weekend contact Mark Grindahl at 218.820.3463.
